
Blood cells from Embryonic Stem Cells: Cornelis Murre - CIRM Science Writer's Seminar

Cornelis Murre, Ph.D., spoke at the Scientific Writer's Seminar, a workshop presented on September 17, 2008 at CIRM headquarters in San Francisco. Murre has a CIRM grant to develop an approach that would allow large-scale production of blood cells from human embryonic cells.

Murre is a professor of biology at the University of California, San Diego.
